Dear Samantha

To Whom It May Concern:

Having worked with Samantha Skyring of Twenty Thousand Drums with children from Lesego Primary School. The Twenty thousand drums training session that was conducted at the school have been a meaningful and excellent opportunity for most kids. The facilitation was amazing and it played an important role in uplifting and changing the general atmosphere for most kids at school.

As a result our interaction with Twenty thousand drums will continue as we intend to introduce drumming to other schools in the area.

I strongly recommend this programme to be used where it's necessary as youth development platform in rekindling the African Spirit and re-instating African tradition and culture.

I hope that this initiative will continue to uplift and empower youth.

Regards,
